Richard D. Rowe Award in Perinatal Cardiology

The Richard D. Rowe Award in Perinatal Cardiology was established by colleagues, trainees, and friends of Dr. Rowe to mark his many personal achievements, commitment to academic excellence, integrity and humility. The winning candidate is selected by a committee from the Society for Pediatric Research on the basis of both the quality of the work presented in the abstract and the information contained in the sponsoring letter. The award carries a monetary prize of $1,000.

Candidates must fulfill the following conditions:

- ◆ A completed application form.
- ◆ Have MD, PhD, or equivalent degree and be within 3 years of completion of post-doctoral education. Individuals who are in the process of obtaining such an education but have already completed original work are encouraged to apply.
- ◆ First authorship on an abstract submitted to the PAS Annual Meeting in the field of perinatal cardiovascular development that is accepted for presentation.
- ◆ The appropriate box on the abstract form must be checked.
- ◆ A sponsoring letter from a member of the SPR. This letter should contain a short appraisal of the candidate's accomplishments and potential and clearly outline his/her participation in the work contained in the abstract.
- ◆ A copy of the candidate's curriculum vitae.
- ◆ The awardee must present the study at the 2003 PAS Annual Meeting.

David G. Nathan Award in Hematology/Oncology

The David G. Nathan Award in Hematology/Oncology was established by the colleagues, trainees, and friends of Dr. Nathan. The award marks Dr. Nathan's many achievements in every aspect of academic pediatrics and pediatric hematology, but most particularly celebrates his mentorship of young physicians during the formative years of their research careers. The winning candidate is selected by a committee from the Society for Pediatric Research on the quality of the work presented in the abstract. The award carries a monetary prize of $1,000.

Candidates must fulfill the following conditions:

- ◆ A completed application form.
- ◆ First authorship on an abstract submitted to the PAS Annual Meeting in the field of pediatric hematology/oncology that is accepted for presentation.
- ◆ Must be submitted prior to the completion of fellowship.
- ◆ The appropriate box on the PAS Abstract Form must be checked.
- ◆ A letter from the senior investigator or sponsor that includes a statement that the work was performed by the nominee and should fully address the role the candidate had in the work.
- ◆ The awardee will present the study at the annual meeting.
