Instructions for Completing the Online Abstract Form

The PAS Program Committee and Eastern SPR are committed to presenting the broadest possible range of high-quality work from the membership at their 2007 Annual Meetings. We would like both the absolute number of abstracts presented and the percentage accepted to grow. To achieve these goals while preserving the quality of the Meetings, we ask members sponsoring each abstract to pay close attention to the abstract content. Historically, abstracts accepted for presentation are hypothesis-driven new work. Abstracts rarely accepted for presentation include single case reports, open label drug trials, highly speculative accounts of clinical experience, and op-ed accounts of personal experience. Interim results from an ongoing clinical trial will not be accepted for presentation unless the study has been prematurely closed for efficacy, lack of efficacy, or issues of safety. The submission of multiple, similar abstracts from the same investigator(s) or laboratory are strongly discouraged.

The member sponsoring each abstract is the first and most important part of the review and selection process. Please contribute high-quality material and do not sponsor an abstract you would not like to see on the program.

1. ABSTRACT SELECTION PROCESS

Abstracts of superior quality will be selected for presentation. Abstracts will be graded based on quality, scientific merit/importance, and quality of research, design and data analysis and the quality of presentation. The submission of abstracts without data because investigations or analyses are incomplete will be evaluated only on the basis of the information contained in the abstract.

For the PAS, designation of a Theme Choice and the listing of key words are essential for the program committee to determine/select abstracts that can be grouped for presentation in poster symposia and other thematic sessions. Choice of abstracts for these thematic sessions is the very first step in the development of the program, and these sessions often include the most highly rated abstracts. Therefore, it is in your interest to designate a theme whenever possible. Subspecialty topic designation will be the last criterion used in the program development.

2. AWARD CONSIDERATION AND SELECTION

The Society for Pediatric Research, Ambulatory Pediatric Association, American Society of Pediatric Hematology/Oncology, American Society of Pediatric Nephrology and Eastern Society for Pediatric Research seek nominations for awards through the abstract submission process. Information regarding the awards for 2007, their eligibility criteria, and the award process can be found on the Awards page.

Please review these criteria and apply for any award for which you believe you are eligible and would like to be considered. Only abstracts accepted for presentation are considered for awards.

New Procedures

Application for an award involves completing all of the following electronically by the submission deadline:

1. Submitting an abstract electronically
2. Checking the appropriate box in the "Awards" part of the submission program,
3. Completing the Award Application Form online for the respective award, and
4. Uploading the required supplemental materials (as indicated in the award information and on the Application Form).

While you are welcome to apply for more than one award, an online Award Application Form is required for EACH award for which you have indicated an interest (by checking the box on the "Award" page).

PAS TRAVEL GRANTS

PAS PRESENTATION FORMATS

For the PAS Annual Meeting, the Program Committee determines the appropriate format for presentation (platform, poster, or poster symposium).
